

AuthenticWeb for Claims

With more than 25,000 regulations affecting claims, simply identifying requirements affecting daily operations can be a complex, time-consuming, and costly task. With AuthenticWeb™ for Claims, the research is already done for you.

AuthenticWeb Benefits:

- Powerful, fully-searchable database of claims-specific regulatory information and forms helps you improve compliance throughout the claims process by making information and forms readily and easily available.
- Powerful search tools and easy-to-use summaries reduce the amount of time spent on research. Access to claim forms on-line makes identifying and completing the correct form quick and easy.
- Operational efficiencies, reduction in compliance-related litigation, and the ability to integrate content into existing systems can all lead to substantial reductions in claims-related costs.
- AuthenticWeb for Claims allows you to dramatically reduce research costs and improves your ability to provide access to current requirements. Your research is automatically refreshed with the most current content available each time you access it.

Our compliance experts have read and analyzed the requirements and written more than 9,000 summaries to help claim-compliance professionals quickly identify what is required and understand how their business is affected.

More than just content, the addition of analytical summaries and indexing provide context, helping you quickly identify what is required. AuthenticWeb for Claims—powered by NILS INSource™, the most trusted name in insurance compliance content—uses intuitive search tools to get users to the information they need quickly and easily. Identifying claims-specific and related requirements has never been easier or faster. Multiple search result options increase flexibility in how information is presented.

Value

AuthenticWeb for Claims can help you lower research costs, improve communication of compliance knowledge, and increase overall levels of compliance.

An easily searchable claims-regulatory database organized by topics and subtopics helps you quickly find requirements.

- Claims requirements are condensed in indexes by topic and subtopic to help you quickly find requirements and make sense of more than 9,000 summaries.
- Flexible and dynamic, AuthenticWeb for Claims allows you to use content in a way that makes the most sense for your operations—as a stand-alone tool, resource for updating rules engines and forms, or a dynamic link to your own intranet.
- Database is updated monthly to help ensure your staff is accessing the most current and accurate regulatory information and forms available.
- AuthenticWeb is available covering Property & Casualty, Long-Term Care, and Medicare Supplement lines of business.

Compliance Ease for Operations

Intuitive research and transaction-processing tools help reduce compliance-related risks and costs in key operational areas. Best of all, they're easy for everyone to use.

Timely and relevant data, workflow-ready forms, and intuitive search tools provide the ideal solution to improve productivity and reduce noncompliance risks.

AuthenticWeb is a family of web-based tools created to address the specific regulatory needs of key work flow areas in insurance operations. All relevant content is organized and indexed by meaningful topics and subtopics. Intuitive search tools and informative analysis mean users will know what is required even if they do not have a law degree.

Many compliance intranets and other electronic manuals fail because content is not maintained fully. Unique dynamic linking can help change that with integrated content that updates automatically whenever new information is published.

Expert Summaries

Our experts read and analyze requirements so you can quickly and easily determine the impact on operations. Our expert summaries provide the insight functional staff need in plain language. In fact, AuthenticWeb tools can make the work for your staff easier and more efficient—freeing up valuable resources to focus on achieving business objectives.

Work Flow-Ready Forms

Complete transactions with confidence using AuthenticWeb's links to forms and regulatory help files. AuthenticWeb forms are flexible and user-friendly transaction-processing tools. Users may complete on-line, download to their desktop, or use to maintain system forms. Regulatory help files for each form help to reduce guesswork and improve compliance levels.
